Political Matters.

Senator Jones of Nevada, who is here en route to Washington, with his family, says he would not, and stated positively he would not, accept a cabinet appointment from the senate, and would be home in time to make the address of welcome to the returned senators because of the illness and the uncertainty of a number expressed the belief that Arthur would adhere to the true republican policy, and that the testimony of senators before committees respecting appointments to office does not show that they represent the people in their testimony as to their choice. Senator expressed his opposition to the civil service secretary Folger respecting the civil service question.

BLAINE'S DIPLOMACY.

Mediation by the United States between Chili and Peru.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Official dispatches, containing instructions given our ministers to Peru and Chili last summer, were furnished for publication by the secretary of state, with approval of the president. The first letter from Blaine to Minister Christiancy at Lima: "If the Calleron government is supported by the character and intelligence of Peru, and is really endeavoring to restore a constitutional government with a view both to domestic order and negotiation with Chili for peace, you may recognize it as the existing provisional government, and render what aid you can by advice and good offices to that end." June 15th, Secretary Blaine, in a dispatch to Minister Hurlburt, said: "Judging from the most recent dispatches from our ministers, you will probably find on the part of Chilean authorities in possession of Peru a willingness to facilitate the establishment of the provisional government which has been attempted by Senor Calderon. If so, you will do all you properly can to encourage the Peruvians to accept any reasonable conditions and unite with them in such concession may be accompanied. Peruvians are certainly aware of the sympathy and interest of the people of the United States, and will, I feel confident, be prepared to give your representations the consideration to which the friendly anxiety of this government entitles them. As far as the influence of the United States will go in Chili, it will be exerted to induce the Chilean government to consent that the question of cession of territory should be the subject of negotiation and not a condition precedent upon which to proceed alone before negotiation shall commence. If, upon full knowledge of the conditions of Peru you can inform this government, and if Peru can devise and carry into practical effect a plan by which all reasonable conditions of Chili can be met without sacrificing the integrity of Peruvian territory, the government of the United States would be willing to tender its offices towards the execution of such a project."

Secretary Blaine also, on June 15th, addressed a note to Minister Egerick at Santiago, Chili, saying: "I am sure the Chilian government will appreciate the natural and deep interest which the United States feels in the termination of a condition so calamitous in its consequences to the best interests of all South American republics. It also knows that if at any time the interposition of the good offices of our government can contribute to the restoration of friendly relations between the belligerent powers they will, upon proper intimation, be promptly offered. At this date, when the right of people to govern themselves as the fundamental basis of republican institutions is so widely recognized, there is nothing more difficult or more dangerous than forced transfer of territory carrying with it an indignant and hostile population, and possibly but necessity proven before the world can justify it. It is not a case in which the power acquiring the territory can be accepted as a safe or impartial judge. While the United States government does not proceed to express an opinion whether or not annexation of territory is necessary as the consequence of this war, it believes it would be more honorable to the Chilian government, more conducive to the security of permanent peace, and more in consonance with those principles which are professed by all the republics of America that such territorial changes should be avoided as far as possible, that they should never be the result of mere force, but if necessary should be decided and tempered by a full and equal discussion between all powers whose people and whose commercial interests are involved in the effort, and apparently a very earnest and honest one has been made to create a provisional government which shall gradually restore order and the reign of law; but it is obvious that for such government to succeed in obtaining the confidence of either its own people or foreign powers it must be allowed freedom and force of action, which cannot be exercised while Chili holds a seaside possession and governs by military authority. This government, therefore, has been glad to learn from its minister in Chili whom you succeed that the Chilian authorities have decided to give their support to the efforts of Senor Calderon to establish on a steady footing a provisional government in Peru. You will, as far as you can do so with propriety and without offense to intrusion, approve and encourage this disposition on the part of the Chilian government, and this department will be exceedingly gratified if your influence as representative of the United States shall be instrumental in inducing the government of Chili to give its aid and support to the restoration of a regular constitutional government in Peru and postpone settlement of all questions of territorial annexation to diplomatic negotiation, which can be resumed with the certainty of a just, friendly and satisfactory conclusion. In any representation which you may make you will say that the hope of the United States is that negotiations for peace will be conducted and that settlement between the countries be determined with out either side invoking the aid or intervention of any European power. The government of the United States seeks only to perform the office of a friend to all parties in this unhappy conflict between South American republics, and it will regret to be compelled to consider how far that feeling might be effected and more active interposition forced upon it by any attempted complication of this question with European politics. If at any time you shall judge it expedient and advantageous to read this dispatch to the minister of foreign affairs you are authorized to do so. Decision on this point is left to your discretion.

A Great Speculation.

Regarding Chili and Peru diplomacy, specials say a handful is being circulated confidentially in Washington, setting forth that although Chili has been acting in a high-handed way she has had no genuine victory over Peru on Peruvian guano mines, and it is urged that a company of American capitalists manage and profit by the guano and saltpeter mines in Peru and Bolivia. The project of this gigantic company is as follows:

Article 1. A company shall be formed in the United States of capitalists to work and manage the guano and nitrate deposits of Peru and Bolivia, the amount of capital and organization of this company to be approved by the governments of Peru, Bolivia and Chili.

2. The three governments shall surrender to the company for a term of —— years executive and entire control of the guano and nitrate business in the territories claimed and now occupied by Chili, as well as any other deposit not claimed, and guarantee undisturbed occupation of the company.

3. The government of the United States shall guarantee that the company shall enjoy undisturbed possession of such acquisitions as are mentioned in the treaty made.

4. From the proceeds of the guano and nitrate the company shall retain the sums indicated in the contract and apply the balance in the proportion arranged in the treaty to be signed by Peru, Bolivia and Chili. First, payments of indemnity according to treaty; second, to pay nitrate certificates; third, to the payment of Peruvian foreign debt; fourth, to expenses of the Bolivian government.

5. The company shall establish its agencies in different markets to administer and care for guano and nitrate and dispose of both these articles, within limits to be afterwards settled; but all operations of the company shall be subject to periodical reports.

6. The contracting company shall have power to capitalize and form a public loan of indemnity and nitrate certificates, and if the company consider it expedient, loans of 1870 and 1872 may be consolidated into one, and the interest, funding, cost of issue, commission, etc., shall be arranged by the three governments. If a loan is negotiated, Chili shall be paid the total amount of indemnity, and shall then renounce all claims upon the guano and nitrate deposits in her territories, and Peru and Bolivia controlled by the company; but the obligation of Chili to insure peaceful possession by the company of guano and nitrate deposits shall always be binding.

The second document is entitled "a financial statement" by which it is claimed the total yearly income from guano and saltpetre deposits, if worked by such company, would be in round numbers, £4,500,000. Out of this 7½ per cent. or £656,250 is set apart as profits for the company and contracts, and what is very significantly termed "contingencies," leaving a yearly net income of something over £3,800,000. The proposed settlement with Chili is upon the basis of a war indemnity of over £6,000,000.

THE DROWNING AT CHEHALIS.

Further Particulars of the Death of Four Persons in Attempting to Ford the River.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

CHEHALIS, Lewis Co., W. T., Dec. 11, 1881.

One of the saddest accidents that ever happened in this county was the drowning of four persons, Mrs. John Dobson, her infant child one year old, Miss Dora West, an amiable young lady aged nineteen, and Thomas Phelps, aged twenty-two years, while attempting to cross the Chehalis river near the mouth of Lincoln creek, Tuesday, the 8th instant. The particulars of the accident can only be imagined, as all in the wagon were drowned. Mrs. Dobson and Miss West left Chehalis with a two-horse team with the intention of visiting relatives. They had been accustomed to driving teams, and no misgivings was felt about their ability to make their journey safely. Mr. Dobson told them to get Mr. Phelps, who lived nearer the ford and was familiar with it and competent to drive the team over the river, which they did, and it was thought they safely reached their journey's end until 24 hours after, when relatives that they had intended to visit heard that the party started. They immediately went to the river and found the team about one-fourth of a mile below the ford standing hitched to the forward part of the wagon, the horses standing in water knee deep, the tongue of the wagon out of the rock yoke and run half its length into the river bank. The team stood in this condition 24 hours, and further below they found the remainder of the wagon and the box bottom up. Mr. Dobson recovered the sad news to the neighbors, who immediately went in search of the bodies. That same day Dobson was recovered a short distance from the ford, one-half mile below where the accident happened. Search is continued for the others. The river at the ford is swift and was, at the time of crossing, on the wagon box about three inches. It was considered safe fording, as teams often cross at such stage. The conclusion is that the tongue dropped out of the yoke, the current carrying it downstream, dumping the wagon, and the team became frightened, turning the wagon over with the occupants into the river, or the box being now afloat they floated up, drowning the dead and supporting the wagon in that position.

Wreck of the bark "Isle of May."

VICTORIA, Dec. 12.—Intelligence reached town yesterday shortly afternoon that the bark Isle of May, Capt. Lund, was on Gonzales rocks near Rocky point, opposite Race rocks light house. The steamers Eliza White and Beaver immediately got up steam and proceeded to the assistance of the stranded vessel. She was already half full of water, and later in the afternoon she was quite full. It appears that she had been for two days beating up the straits without the assistance of a pilot, although the captain and kept a signal flying for one, and early yesterday morning she was struck by a heavy squall. In backing she missed stays and became unmanageable. Being thus near the rocks two anchors were at once let go, but the rocky nature of the bottom prevented them from holding. She therefore continued to drift and struck stern foremost at six A. M. The rudder was at once carried away, but the vessel did not commence to fill till several hours after she grounded. Her position is a precarious one, especially should a southeast gale spring up. From other winds she is comparatively sheltered. The captain, his wife and crew are ashore not far from the wreck, where they have put up temporary shelter. The list of May is a Boston built bark of 880 tons register. She is owned by Capt. Martinus of Valparaiso, and has been 42 days out from that port. She was bound for Port Discovery to load lumber, and came up in ballast. Capt. Lund does not know whether the vessel is insured or not.

Another Accident.

The steamer Beaver, on the way down Friday, struck a snag at Wild Cat point, near Chilliwack, and is now lying in shallow water. The living took off all her freight and brought down the cattle and passengers that were on board. It is expected that she will be raised in a few days, when proper appliances for closing and pumping out her water-tight compartments arrive at the scene of the disaster. Weather cold, with light snow falling.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The steamer Oceanic from Hong Kong via Yokohama has arrived.

The minister is aged about 50, is a pleasant appearing person and is described as a man of fine education. The party, on leaving the steamer, were driven to the Palace hotel where they were waited upon by officials from the Chinese consulate and the customary courtesies exchanged. The minister and suite expect to start for Washington in about a week.

Notes from Hongkong.

HONG KONG, Nov. 18.—The burial of the late empress of China after a lapse of several months has taken place. The deceased was consort of the father of the late emperor. The absence of the western empress and political emperor from the ceremonies occasioned remarks and was caused by a disturbance among Pataki outbreak. It was asserted that she would never be allowed to return if she went beyond the limit of the city.

M. Butzow, Russian minister, has arrived in Peking. He has agreed to bring with him a ratification of the Ilisso Chinese treaty.

Chief Justice French, of the British supreme court of China and Japan, is dead.

The Chinese government has decided to lay the railway line formerly between Shanghai and Woo Lung, from the coast of Formosa to the sugar districts. Burge R. Lewis, marshal of the U. S. consulate at Shanghai, suicided October 29th by severing an artery in his arm.

The American ship Humboldt was wrecked at Lincoln island October 22d. W. C. Clinton, second mate, and nine Chinese steward and cook, were drowned. The others gained the land and were taken off by the steamer Gordon Castle.

Japan.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 25.—The silk difficulty between Japanese and foreign silk merchants has been adjusted by conference. The central silk market is to be established in a site convenient to foreigners, and thereal business will be done, inspection effected and payment made before delivery. Meanwhile the Japanese will continue to issue their setups to foreign warehouses, receiving contracts as to prices, stating in what period inspection would be completed, and warehouse receipts, delivery orders and policies of fire insurance made. Business has been resumed, but adverse advices from Europe and America have limited transactions. The price is much to her disadvantage, as the absorbent of the guild. Still worm egg cards find no sale to the great distress of producers.

Rumors prevail of more changes in the government. A well informed native journal states that it is likely Ando will be minister of War, Osamu of foreign affairs, and Yoshida, at present minister at Washington head of the finance department.

Mayeshima, postmaster-general for many years, has resigned, and Nomura Yarushi, former governor of Janagawa, appointed.

Cho Heike, Korean envoy to Tokio had an audience with the Mikado. A native paper states he is empowered to negotiate for the opening of the port of Ninsen.

An outrage has been committed by natives of one of the Aleutian islands on the crew of the sealing hunting schooner Diana, who were fired upon, and several of the Japanese crew killed. One of the foreign officers received eight balls in his body and another was badly wounded.

CANADA.

Canadian Pacific Matters.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Inter-Ocean: A curious question arises in connection with the proposed transfer of the Credit Valley Railroad in Canada to the Canadian Pacific syndicate. The road was constructed on a charter granted by the province of Ontario, and it is argued that the amendments necessary to allow the transfer must be made by the Ontario legislature. If the commission parliament does what it is asserted the provincial parliament will refuse to do, the Toronto Globe threatens that there will be only a day of reckoning for all such interference with the rights of the people.

Australian Money Order Exchange.

Regarding a money order exchange with New Zealand and New South Wales, the Tribune's Washington says: It will increase largely the supply of American goods there. The people there are now willing to take all deal in American goods and machinery, but the system of exchange has greatly impeded such trade.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The following bills were introduced:

By Edmunds, to amend sec. on 5352, revised statutes, in reference to bigamy and for other purposes.

By McMillan, to amend the section of the revised statutes relating to license fees of officers of steam vessels.

By Harrison, delivery to the Society of the Army of the Cumberland of condemned cannon to aid in the erection of a statue by Gen. Garfield.

By Butler, to establish and educational fund and apply a portion of the proceeds of public lands to public education and provide for more complete endowment and support of colleges for the advancement of scientific and industrial education.

Pugh submitted a resolution requesting the president to communicate to the senate the instructions sent our minister to London in regard to a modification of the Clayton Bulwer treaty; agreed to.

Blair submitted a resolution instructing the committee on education and labor to inquire into the condition of common school education in the United States and report thereon, and also as to what measure in the opinion of the committee congress can lawfully and properly enact in aid of such education; adopted.

Hoar introduced a bill for the education of Indian children, upon which he gave notice of his intention to speak.

The tariff commission bill was taken up, and Garland made a speech thereon. He insisted that a tariff that is a tax upon the people who consume the imports upon which it is imposed, when fairly and justly levied, had always been a favorite mode of raising revenue. The sums paid under into the current expenses of those objects them and the burden is not felt as when payment is made direct and at a fixed and stated time. Neither the doctrine of protection nor that of free trade had a resting place in this country. After quoting from the tariff speech of Voorhees at Atlanta, and from remarks of Morrill, he said, overruling the argument which was affecting this country to-day in regard to tendencies of the protective policy was they were but a step toward and led up to monopolies which are oppressing this country beyond all others to its injury.

Beck talked Garland and replied to Morrill. Beck said Morrill had argued that we are getting rich because we are exporting more than we are importing, but we would have to turn the protection wheel a little more and we would have no imports at all. It would be all exports. The farmer who exports $100,000 in grain must have machinery and supplies to carry on operations. These are offered to him for $60,000. Morrill's protective tariff says to him, you shall not have them unless you pay $400,000 for the privilege, but we have congressional pets in New England who will sell them to you.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,

20 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE IN 1880.

The Society is now paying matured Tontine Policies with the following remarkable results:

POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEON.

1st Example: Policy No. 46,563, issued May 25, 1870. Amount $10,000 00
Annual premium, 20 years, Tontine Period ten years. Amount $10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years) 7,500 00
Cash assured on Dec. 30, 1880, will be entitled to draw in cash, 30.732 per cent of the premiums paid. 3,073 20
These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are

NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.

2d Example: Policy No. 51,821, issued March 27, 1871. Amount $5,000 00
Total premiums paid 10 years 3,825 00
In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1881, in cash, $3,315 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid. 10 years will be thus paid in 681, showing

CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.

Assets securely invested at $47,000,000. Surplus, nearly $8,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past seven years the total amount of its policies issued exceeds the entire issue of any other company in existence, thus making its average ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.

The Society pays death claims promptly and in cash. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unreasonable conditions.

EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

For additional Tontine examples, books, pamphlets descriptive and full information apply to

THE SMALL POX.

Increase of small pox in nearly all parts of the United States is calling attention to the necessity of measures to prevent the spread of the disease. Of late it has become very prevalent in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Missouri, and in some localities in Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska. Diffusion of the disease is confined mainly to lines of emigrant travel and to localities where emigrants settle in considerable numbers. It is increasing in the large centres of population, as Chicago and Cincinnati, which are distributing points for emigrants, at a rate which is causing real alarm. The small pox which has appeared in so many places on the Pacific coast during the last few months can be traced in nearly all cases to contact with emigrants from the east. In most eastern cities systematic measures are being taken by the authorities to check the ravages of the disease. Great objection is made by many persons to vaccination, and municipal boards of health are obliged in some cases to resort to compulsory measures.

Spread of the disease and the opposition encountered in the effort to induce vaccination have called forth statements from physicians of recognized eminence, which are being widely published. Dr. W. B. Carpenter, the well known writer on medical science, in a recent publication meets two common and well defined objections to vaccination, viz: First that it is a means by which other diseases, particularly of a scrofulous nature, may be introduced into the system, from the blood of the person from whose arm the vaccine matter was taken, and, second, the suspicion among vaccinators of long experience that vaccinia has a tendency to degenerate, and that its protective power is not nearly so great as in the years immediately succeeding the discovery of Jenner. On the point first named, Dr. Carpenter admits that contamination from human disease is possible; though the liability to it is diminished by transmission through a succession of healthy human beings. But experience has also shown that to insure the highest efficacy the virus ought not to be many removes from the original bovine parentage. It is, of course, impossible that any affection of the blood, such as scrofula, erysipelas, or other disease which those who resist vaccination fear, should be communicated through bovine virus, and hence are careful in selecting responsible physicians to perform the operation is all the precaution which it is necessary to observe. The second objection is that vaccination has not the protective power claimed for it, and many instances are cited in which persons who had been successfully vaccinated soon afterwards had the small pox. To this Dr. Carpenter answers, with regard to the vaccine virus, that it loses its protective power in proportion to the remoteness of its derivation from the original stock. Moreover, if transmitted through a long line of human beings it gradually loses in potency; and either does not "take" at all, or if it does, is not a sufficient guarantee of immunity from the dread disease. The vesicle is smaller than formerly, the attendant constitutional disturbance is but slight, and the protection is incomplete. It is interesting in confirmation of this, to know that Dr. Martin, of Massachusetts, states that "if this so-called human and vaccinia is re-communicated to calves it soon dies out; this retro-vaccination never proceeding beyond the third remove from the human into the bovine subject."

A few days ago one of the best physicians in Portland, a man who in the midst of a large practice finds time for proper attention to current scientific discussion and investigation, remarked that the world was on the eve of great discoveries in medical science. Phenomena under investigation, he said, point with certainty to some of the greatest results which the science has ever attained. In his opinion experiments recently made leave little doubt that in a few years not only will the ravages of disease among the lower animals be checked by vaccination, but scarlet fever, measles and the scourge of diphtheria will be practically annihilated by inoculation with their germs, under such conditions as will cause only a slight illness, with almost perfect security against future attacks. It is needless to enlarge on the vast blessing such a result, should it ever come near the fulfillment of the idea, would be an incalculable boon to the race.

The judiciary committee of the senate, of which Mr. Edmunds is chairman, takes the position that the president has no constitutional power to fill during the recess of the senate any office which becomes vacant during the preceding session. The point is giving rise to a good deal of discussion, as the question is one of importance. Precedents appear to be against the Vermont senator, though he is too good a lawyer to promulgate a report that has no foundation in the constitution. The question, so far as it has been published, appears to be based on that clause of the constitution which says that "the president shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session." This question came up when William Wirt was attorney general of the United States, who gave an opinion to the effect that the president had a right to fill vacancies that existed at the time appointments were made, though the vacancies occurred during the preceding session. The opinion of Mr. Wirt has been confirmed by many subsequent attorney-generals, among whom may be mentioned Mason, Legaz, Taney, Cushing, Bates, Stanbery and others. Yet many eminent constitutional lawyers have taken issue with these opinions, not the least of whom is the Vermont senator, who is regarded as one of the soundest lawyers in the country.

The ring of speculators in Europe who recently got up a "boom" in the worthless confederate bonds, are now trying to put fresh gas into their balloon by promising to work up American public sentiment in favor of the repeal of the constitutional amendment which forever prohibits the payment of those bonds. Any one who shall be induced to invest in these trashy securities by such a promise must be deplorably ignorant of the stuff the American people are made of.

Mr. Goldwin Smith suggests that Americans might well erect in Washington a statue of Cromwell. He says: "The statute of the protector for which it must be received at Westminster, where it would break the constitutional harmony and dwarf the kings, might find an appropriate site at Washington. Placed there, with Milton's lines for an inscription, it would symbolize in a noble form the birth of the social principles which are now those of the new world."

A movement is reported to have been set on foot in North Carolina, looking to the reuniting up of the democratic party somewhat after the plan adopted in Virginia. No clearly defined programme has been decided on but the question is having the serious consideration of certain native politicians who realize the fact that a change is necessary in the organization of parties.

In Ireland many of the landlords are compromising with their tenants and voluntarily reducing the rents 33 to 40 per cent. In some cases the reductions are more than fifty per cent. The London Spectator says they are "inexplicable, unless the rack-renting was of the most extraordinary kind."

The witnesses are not testifying to Guiteau's insanity so positively as the assassin thinks necessary for his safety and he is even more incensed and abusive than usual. It is a disgrace that the abhorred wretch is not hurried towards the gallows at greater speed.

CITY.

"Hotel Portland."—This name has been given to the hotel which effected an organization Saturday. They have rented the furnished restaurant conducted by Capt. J. C. Ainsworth, on First and Oak streets. Following are the officers elected: President, John Green; first vice-president, H. Klinger; second vice-president, C. Ott; secretary, J. Bourne, jr.; treasurer, Fred Townsend; directors, Henry Failing, William Molson, D. Mackey and E. G. Mackey. The club has seventy charter members.

The new government dredge is doing good work at St. Helen's bar and already Several additional feet of depth have been secured. The channel now has 16½ feet. Tides last week raised seven inches to over 8 feet, two feet more than high water being seven feet six inches. Tides this week will be somewhat prevented by accident which can be remedied by a scow from to-day.

Arrest.—Night Chief of Police Lappenbusch and Officer Campbell at the Eagle saloon, between Second and Third, arrested one Campbell was sentenced to the penitentiary for stealing a coat from a saloon. He escaped from the penitentiary by tunneling, and although every means had been used, all previous efforts were unavailing to have him returned to the penitentiary as a fugitive.

Early yesterday, while Guiseppe Cassino, one of the band of gypsies who left Portland a few days ago, was on his way home he was run over by a horse crossing Hooker street, where Cassino was camping, and fell to the street before the horse. He received in all probability severe internal injuries. He was in a critical condition by Officer Matthieu, who took him to his home, which was not far distant.

Arrest.—A warrant was issued in the municipal court for the arrest of C. F. Schilcadeike with intending to abscond from his debts. Kroetz & Co. are complainants. Schilcadeike is a one armed man, who has been in business for a year or two, and claimed to be a correspondent of the New York Times. He left Portland, because he could not be trusted.

Assault.—J. Schilcadeike the dairyman, was arraigned before Justice Peirath, this morning, to-day before Justice Peirath, charged with assault and battery upon Mrs. Beacke with assault and battery upon Mrs. Beacke with intent to kill. It is charged that Schilcadeike went to Beacke's residence, on Second street, between Ash and Pine streets, demanded him in an up town saloon, and attacked his alleged creditor, and upon his appearance, a struggle ensued, in which Schilcadeike struck Beacke with a hatchet, inflicting a severe wound on the right side of his head. The case was closed by attachment from Justice Peirath, and Schilcadeike will be sentenced to-day.

Assault.—Yesterday afternoon Tim Wheeler, a resident of the St. Stephen's Hotel, corner First and Oak streets, pleaded not guilty to the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, upon Mrs. Peterson. Following are the facts in the case: Mrs. Peterson, wife of Capt. J. C. Ainsworth, president

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 13, 1881.

OLYMPIA OCCURRENCES.

General Notes from our Regular Correspondent.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Dec. 9, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Silence once more reigns within the walls of the capitol, instead of the noise and bustle attending the daily session, mingled with the chatter of little groups of legislators gathered together in corners here and there, deciding the fate of some unfortunate bill. Nothing is now heard but the gentle sighing of the wind among the tall pine trees, interrupted at certain intervals by the roar of the iron horse on his way to or from Tenino.

CLOSING HOURS.

As the time of closing the extra session drew nearer, a feeling of nervousness seemed to overtake some of the members who were serving their country for the first time as legislators, for fear anything of importance should escape at the last moment, but happily their fears were groundless and nothing was forgotten. On Wednesday it became quite apparent that but a few hours more would witness the dissolution of the extra session, and naturally enough people were anxious to witness its last moments.

The bill to regulate marriages was one of the last measures acted on, and although an effort was made to indefinitely postpone it, yet through the perseverance of Mr. Kuhn (a bachelor, too) it actually became a law. About 9 P. M. the council took a recess until 11 P. M. so as to allow the clerks to proceed with the enrolling, and the members and officers, together with your correspondent, in response to a cordial invitation received from President Stratton, proceeded to the Carlton House, where a sumptuous lunch was spread, to which ample justice was done by those present. Besides the members and officers of the council, there were also present his excellency the governor, Major J. R. Hayden, Colonel Owings and Captain Ballard. After the guests had carefully discussed the eatables, Major Hayden arose and proposed the health of the host, Hon. H. F. Stratton, which was received with applause, and responded to by Governor Newell (by request), and it can truly be said that the compliments paid by his excellency were fully and justly deserved. Mr. Stratton, by his manly, honest and straightforward course during the past sixty-six days, earned for himself the reputation of being a thorough business man, an excellent presiding officer, and in every sense of the word a gentleman.

The health of "His Excellency" the governor being proposed and drank, the governor responded in his usual happy manner, referring with deep satisfaction to the admirable manner in which the work of the legislature had been done this session, drawing attention also to the ingenuity of the work done by the legislative body in compiling and codifying the laws of the territory in such a limited space of time. His excellency also referred to the unanimity and kind feeling which had characterized the present legislative body, and the courtesy extended by the members to each other during the entire session. The governor also alluded in one feet, which is probably without a parallel in the history of Washington territory legislatures—that it had not been found necessary, in a single instance, to veto any of the bills passed by the legislative assembly, which fact showed in itself that both houses knew what they were doing when they passed the different measures.

"The Press" was also toasted and responded to briefly by your correspondent, who took occasion to thank the governor, members and officers for many courtesies extended to him in his capacity as correspondent of THE OREGONIAN.

Several other toasts were given and responded to, songs were sung and speeches made until the time arrived for which the council adjourned, when they returned to the capitol to continue their labors, which lasted until nearly 4 A. M., when the last bill was approved by the governor.

We is commenting thus favorably on the doings of the session, I do not wish it to be understood that my remarks tend to the disparagement of the lower house. On the contrary their work has been well and carefully performed; every measure has received careful consideration at their hands; the governor has not shown a needed ability for his position, and is second to none as a parliamentarian as evidenced by the fact that his rulings were always sustained by the house.

For the first time believers in the legislative Mecca of Washington Territory—the Hall Table—of both houses were kept written up so well that at the close of the session but a couple of days' work remained unrecorded. This certainly tells well for the chief clerks and their assistants, and undoubtedly deserves mention.

COURTS.

Lawyers will probably take an interest in U. S. matters to court and the times and places for holding such, as the 1st and 2d judicial districts. The Chehalis court shall be held at the following places: Walla Walla—First Monday in May and the second Monday in November.

The following are the U. S. courts and none others in the above districts: Walla Walla, Colfax, Cheney, Olympia, Kalama, Yakima City.

MEASURES LOST.

The following bills, although considered important, yet failed to pass during the session:

To amend the gambling act.

To establish a ferry and pilot regulations on straits of Juan de Fuca.

To remove the capital to Cheney.

To appropriation for territorial university.

To encourage cultivation of oysters.

To organize the militia.

To exempt railroads crossing the Cascades from taxation.

To amend the act of ——.

To appropriate money for the relief of the House of Providence, Vancouver.

The last named bill was accompanied by the following petition from the Sisters of Charity at Vancouver, addressed to the legislative assembly:

HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE,
VANCOUVER, Oct. 24, 1881.

To the Honorable Legislative Body of both Houses of Representatives and Councilmen of Washington Territory—Gentlemen:—The undersigned Sisters of Charity residing in Vancouver, respectfully present to the legislative body of Washington Territory a petition in favor of obtaining in the shape of an appropriation, aid and succor for the maintenance of the numerous orphans confided to their care.

The grounds on which the petition is based are well known, no doubt, to a great many of the honorable members of the legislature, and to know them is to approve and favor them, as they appeal at the same time to our feelings of justice and charity. And, indeed, honorable gentlemen, if it be true that by the fifth of your noble tree, and by its works you know the excellence of an intention let figures and facts speak for themselves. Since their first coming to Vancouver the Sisters of Charity have taken care of nine hundred and fifty (950) orphans of both sexes, all in the long term every county in the territory, besides six hundred and four (604) homeless, starving and sick strangers have been rescued and relieved, thirty (30) old people have found a home in their institution, and one thousand five hundred and ninety two (1592) sick have been nursed and tenderly cared for. In all, three thousand one hundred and seventy-six (3176) persons have been assisted, clothed, fed, educated and nursed during the few years that the Sisters have been established at Vancouver alone. Behold the fruits and tell if such a tree is worthy of your support, or if it be not true that never any distinction has been made in regard to nationality, creed or color; no matter what nation, no matter what creed a person belongs to, provided he be in need, the doors of the Sisters' institutions are open to receive him. Not only all that men can such work be kept up? Until now the Sisters have relied on Divine Providence and the charity of their fellowmen whom Almighty God has blessed with the goods of earth. Collections have been made all over the United States, British Columbia and South America, and annual labor, whenever opportunity offered, has been resorted to by the Sisters in order to feed, clothe and educate the poor orphans who come to them from every part of the territory. But, since some three years ago, it has pleased the legislative body to increase our burden by taxing the home of the orphan, the poor and the sick, we raise a cry of distress. Every year we save a great deal of treasure to the territory. How many thousands of dollars would have been expended if the territory had been obliged to build orphanages, homes and hospitals, and supported them for twenty-six years? Yes, if the Sisters had not done it, would the burden not have fallen on the territory? Therefore, honorable gentlemen, have we not a just claim and title to an appropriation as all our labor and means are for the benefit of the territory's people?

Hoping, honorable gentlemen, that you will be prompted by the justice of our claim, and at the same time making appeal to your well known charity and generosity in all that concerns the public good and welfare, we humbly subscribe ourselves,

SISTERS OF CHARITY,
House of Providence.

The representative of Clarke county (Mr. Dillon) did all he could to have the matter legislated upon, but unfortunately without effect, and it is feared that before a year rolls around the members will regret not having helped this benevolent institution.

Among the visitors who attended during the last days of the session were Hon.—Wheeler, superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. A. S. Dunlway, of the New Northwest, and C. B. Hopkins, Esq., of the Puluo e Gazette, and on the last day, I might mention, Mr. Hopkins was tendered a vote of thanks for having (as the house resolution states) "saved the territory $200 in their printing bill."

Nearly all those members have returned to their respective homes, and yet Olympia does not look as deserted as I expected. REPORTER.

ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense—no one seemed to know what ailed me—that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, and when I told them what had helped me they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! Long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.—Home Journal.

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases arise, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the medical profession.

It is true that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in telling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and shame, and from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions are now corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of this miserable existence.

By treating strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
